INDEX TO VOL. LXXVII. (B)

Alcock (N. H.) The Action of Anæsthetics on Living Tissues. Part I.—The Action on Isolated Nerve, 267.

Amphibia, synapsis in (Moore and Embleton), 555.

Anæsthetics, action on living tissues (Alcock), 267 ; —— chemistry of (Moore and Roaf), 86.

Antedon, growth of oocyte in (Chubb), 384.

Antityphoid serum obtained from goats (Macfadyen), 548.

Armit (H. W.) and Harden (A.) The Quantitative Estimation of Small Quantities of Nickel in Organic Substances, 420.

Arnold (G.) See Moore and Arnold.

Bacillus lactis aerogenes, chemical action on glucose and mannitol (Harden and Walpole), 399.

Bacteria, Voges and Proskauer's reaction for certain (Harden), 424.

Barometric pressure, influence of increased, on man (Hill and Greenwood), 442.

Bashford (E. F.) and Murray (J. A.) On the Occurrence of Heterotypical Mitoses in Cancer, 226.

Bateson (W.), Saunders (E. R.) and Punnett (R. C.) Further Experiments on Inheritance in Sweet Peas and Stocks : Preliminary Account, 236.

Biometrical study of conjugation in Paramæcium (Pearl), 377.

Blackman (V. H.) and Fraser (H. C. I.) On the Sexuality and Development of the Ascocarp of Humaria granulata Quél., 354.

Blastomeres, cell communications between (Shearer), 498.

Blood serum, specificity of opsonic substances in (Bulloch and Western), 531.

Bolton (C.) A Further Communication on the Specificity and Action in Vitro of Gastrotoxin, 426.

Breinl (A.) Pathological Report on the Histology of Sleeping Sickness and Trypanosomiasis, etc., 233.

Bulloch (W.) and Western (G. T.) The Specificity of the Opsonic Substances in the Blood Serum, 531.

Cancer, occurrence of heterotypical mitoses in (Bashford and Murray), 226.

Carbon assimilation in plants, mechanism of (Usher and Priestley), 369.

Castor oil plant, germination of seeds of (Green and Jackson), 69.

Cell metabolism studied in oocyte of Antedon (Chubb), 384.

Cerebral cortex, mammalian, with reference to comparative histology (Watson), 150.

Chestnut mares, offspring of thoroughbred (Weldon), 394.

Chick (H.) A Study of the Process of Nitrification with reference to the Purification of Sewage, 241.

Chloroform, etc., physical and chemical properties of solutions (Moore and Roaf), 86.

Chromosomes of first maiotic division, permanent forms among (Moore and Arnold), 563.

Chubb (G. C.) The Growth of the Oocyte in Antedon: a Morphological Study in the Cell-metabolism, 384.
Coat-colour in horses, inheritance of (Hurst), 388.
Convoluta roscoffensis, isolation of infecting organism of (Keeble and Gamble), 66.
Craw (J. A.) On the Filtration of Crystalloids and Colloids through Gelatine: with Special Reference to the Behaviour of Hæmolysins, 311.
Crystalloids and colloids, filtration through gelatine (Craw), 311.

Echinus esculentus, effects of alkalies and acids on growth and cell division in eggs of (Moore, Roaf and Whitley), 102; —— (Whitley), 137.
Embleton (A. L.) See Moore and Embleton.
Enzyme action, studies on (Nicloux), 454.
Ewart (A. J.) On the Nature of the Galvanotropic Irritability of Roots, 63.

Farmer (J. B.), Moore (J. E. S.), and Walker (C. E.) On the Cytology of Malignant Growths, 336.
Fertility in Scottish sheep (Marshall), 58.
Fraser (H. C. I.) See Blackman and Fraser.

Gamble (F. W.) See Keeble and Gamble.
Gastrotoxin, specificity and action in vitro of (Bolton), 426.
Gelatine, filtration of crystalloids and colloids through (Craw), 311.
Germination of seeds of Ricinus communis (Green and Jackson), 69.
Green (J. R.) and Jackson (H.) Further Observations on the Germination of the Seeds of the Castor Oil Plant (Ricinus communis), 69.
Greenwood (M., Jun.) See Hill and Greenwood.

Hæmolysins, behaviour in relation to filtration through gelatine (Craw), 311; —— and phagocytosis of red blood cells (Keith), 537.
Hall (A. D.) and Miller (N. H. J.) The Effect of Plant Growth and of Manures upon the Retention of Bases by the Soil, 1; —— and Morison (C. G. T.) On the Function of Silica in the Nutrition of Cereals.—Part I, 455.
Harden (A.) On Voges and Proskauer's Reaction for certain Bacteria, 424; —— See Armit and Harden; —— and Walpole, (G. S.) Chemical Action of Bacillus lactis aerogenes on Glucose and Mannitol: Production of 2 : 3 Butyleneglycol and Acetylmethylcarbinol, 399; —— and Young (W. J.) The Alcoholic Ferment of Yeast-juice, 405.
Henderson (E. E.) and Starling (E. H.) The Factors which Determine the Production of Intraocular Fluid, 294.
Hepatomonas of kala-azar, development from Leishman-Donovan bodies (Rogers), 284.
Herring (P. T.) See Schäfer and Herring.
Hill (L.) and Greenwood (M., Jun.) The Influence of Increased Barometric Pressure on Man.—No. I, 442.
Humaria granulata, sexuality and development of ascocarp of (Blackman and Fraser), 354.
Hurst (C. C.) On the Inheritance of Coat-colour in Horses, 388.

Inheritance in Sweet Peas and Stocks, further experiments on (Bateson, Saunders, and Punnett), 236; —— of Coat-colour in Horses (Hurst), 388.
Innervation of antagonistic muscles (Sherrington), 478.
Intraocular fluid, factors determining production of (Henderson and Starling), 294.

Jackson (Henry) See Green and Jackson.

Kala-azar, development of the Hepatomonas of, from Leishman-Donovan bodies (Rogers), 284.
Keeble (F.) and Gamble (F. W.) On the Isolation of the Infecting Organism (Zoochlorella) of Convoluta roscoffensis, 66.
Keith (R. D.) On the Relationship between Hæmolysis and the Phagocytosis of Red Blood Cells, 537.
Kidney, action of pituitary extracts upon (Schäfer and Herring), 571.
Kidston (R.) On the Microsporangia of the Pteridosperms, 161.

Lane-Claypon (J. E.) On the Origin and Life-History of the Interstitial Cells of the Ovary in the Rabbit, 32; —— and Starling (E. H.) An Experimental Enquiry into the Factors which determine the Growth and Activity of the Mammary Glands, 505.

Macallum (A. B.) and Menten (M. L.) On the Distribution of Chlorides on Nerve Cells and Fibres, 165.
Macfadyen (A.) Upon the Properties of an Antityphoid Serum obtained from the Goat, 548.
Malignant growths, cytology of (Walker), 336.
Mammary glands, factors which determine growth and activity of (Lane-Claypon and Starling), 505.
Marshall (F. H. A.) Fertility in Scottish Sheep, 58.
Menten (M. L.) See Macallum and Menten.
Miller (N. H. J.) See Hall and Miller.
Moore (B.) and Roaf (H. E.) On Certain Physical and Chemical Properties of Solutions of Chloroform and other Anæsthetics.—(Second Communication), 86; —— —— and Whitley (E.) On the Effects of Alkalies and Acids, and of Alkaline and Acid Salts, upon Growth and Cell Division in the Fertilized Eggs of Echinus esculentus, 102.
Moore (J. E. S.) and Arnold (G.) On the Existence of Permanent Forms among the Chromosomes of the First Maiotic Division in Certain Animals, 563; —— and Embleton (A. L.) On the Synapsis in Amphibia, 555; —— see also Farmer, Moore and Walker.
Morison (C. G. T.) See Hall and Morison.
Murray (J. A.) See Bashford and Murray.

Nerve, action of anæsthetics on (Alcock), 267.
Nerve cells and fibres, distribution of chlorides in (Macallum and Menten), 165.
Nickel, estimation of small quantities in organic substances (Armit and Harden), 420.
Nicloux (M.) Studies on Enzyme Action—Lipase, 454.
Nitrification, process of, and sewage purification (Chick), 241.

Opsonic substances in blood serum (Bulloch and Western), 531.
Ovary of rabbit, interstitial cells of (Lane-Claypon), 32.

Paramæcium, biometrical study of conjugation in (Pearl), 377.
Pearl (R.) A Biometrical Study of Conjugation in Paramæcium, 377.
Pearson (H. H. W.) Some Observations on Welwitschia mirabilis, Hooker, f., 162.
Phagocytosis of red blood cells and hæmolysis (Keith), 537; —— spontaneous, and that obtained with heated serum of tubercle-infected patients (Wright and Reid), 211.

Pituitary extracts, action upon kidney (Schäfer and Herring), 571.
Plant growth and manures, effect on bases in soil (Hall and Miller), 1.
Plants, carbon assimilation in green (Usher and Priestley), 369.
Pleuronectes platessa, effect of acids, etc., on development of eggs of (Whitley), 137.
Priestley (J. H.) See Usher and Priestley.
Pteridosperms, microsporangia of (Kidston), 161.
Punnett (R. C.) See Bateson, Saunders, and Punnett.

Regeneration in polychæte worms (Watson), 332.
Reid (S. T.) See Wright and Reid.
Rivers (W. H. R.) Report on the Psychology and Sociology of the Todas and other Indian Tribes, 239.
Roaf (H. E.) See Moore and Roaf, and Moore, Roaf and Whitley.
Rogers (L.) Further Work on the Development of the Hepatomonas of Kala-Azar and Cachexial Fever from Leishman-Donovan Bodies, 284.
Roots, nature of galvanotropic irritability of (Ewart), 63.

Saunders (E. R.) See Bateson, Saunders and Punnett.
Schäfer (E. A.) and Herring (P. T.) The Action of Pituitary Extracts upon the Kidney, 571.
Sewage purification, nitrification in relation to (Chick), 241.
Seward (A. C.) The Araucarieæ, Recent and Extinct, 163.
Shearer (C.) On the Existence of Cell Communications between Blastomeres, 498.
Sheep, fertility in Scottish (Marshall), 58.
Sherrington (C. S.) On Innervation of Antagonistic Muscles. Ninth Note.—Successive Spinal Induction, 478.
Silica, function of, in nutrition of cereals (Hall and Morison), 455.
Sleeping sickness and trypanosomiasis, histology of (Breinl), 233.
Soil, effect of plant growth and manures upon retention of bases by (Hall and Miller), 1.
Spinal induction, successive (Sherrington), 478.
Starling (E. H.) See Henderson and Starling ; Lane-Claypon and Starling.
Stomoxys, internal anatomy of (Tulloch), 523.
Synapsis in amphibia (Moore and Embleton), 555.

Todas, psychology and sociology of (Rivers), 239.
Trypanosomiasis, histology of, and comparative changes in T. Gambiense and other trypanosome infections (Breinl), 233.
Tubercular infection tested by examination of blood and tissue fluids (Wright and Reid), 194 ; phagocytosis obtained with serum of tubercular patients (Wright and Reid), 211.
Tulloch (F.) The Internal Anatomy of Stomoxys, 523.

Usher (F. L.) and Priestley (J. H.) A Study of the Mechanism of Carbon Assimilation in Green Plants, 369.

Voges and Proskauer's reaction for certain bacteria (Harden), 424.

Walker (C. E.) See Farmer, Moore, and Walker.
Walpole (G. S.) See Harden and Walpole.
Watson (A. T.) A Case of Regeneration in Polychæte Worms, 332.

Watson (G. A.) The Mammalian Cerebral Cortex, with Special Reference to its Comparative Histology. I.—Order Insectivora, 150.
Weldon (W. F. R.) Note on the Offspring of Thoroughbred Chestnut Mares, 394.
Welwitschia mirabilis, observations on (Pearson), 162.
Western (G. T.) See Bulloch and Western.
Whitley (E.) A Note on the Effect of Acid, Alkali, and certain Indicators in arresting or otherwise influencing the Development of the Eggs of Pleuronectes platessa and Echinus esculentus, 137. See also Moore, Roaf, and Whitley.
Worms, regeneration in polychæte (Watson), 332.
Wright (A. E.) and Reid (S. T.) On the Possibility of Determining the Presence or Absence of Tubercular Infection by the Examination of a Patient's Blood and Tissue Fluids, 194 ; —— —— On Spontaneous Phagocytosis, and on the Phagocytosis which is obtained with the Heated Serum of Patients who have Responded to Tubercular Infection, etc., 211.

Yeast-juice, alcoholic ferment of (Harden and Young), 405.
Young (W. J.) See Harden and Young.

Zoochlorella of Convoluta roscoffensis, isolation of (Keeble and Gamble), 66.

END OF THE SEVENTY-SEVENTH VOLUME (SERIES B).
